*We are very grateful
for this generous support of Transcultural
Learning at Huron.*

Dear Ms. Thomas,

Ramona Joseph

Thank you very much for The Anglican Church of Canada's support of the Transcultural Learning Program in the Faculty of Theology at Huron University College with the generous gift of $3,000 from the Partners in Mission program. Our signed copy of your letter of January 29, 2009 acknowledging receipt of the grant was mailed to you on February 5, 2009.

Transcultural learning is an integral dimension of the educational experience of our theology students, and The Anglican Church of Canada's gift is very important in supporting this program. In 2009, Huron University College is committed to providing opportunities for its students to explore "Church and Society in post-apartheid South Africa" as part of their Transcultural Learning Program. Donations such as this will provide an opportunity for them to expand their understanding of the mission of the church as an agent of reconciliation in society through examining this interaction in Anglican churches in South Africa.

Specifically, the course and trip will explore the ways that ministries and churches in the Diocese of Cape Town work as agents of social transformation, particularly with regard to negotiating the interaction of ecclesial, civic, and governmental structures. Of particular interest will be how this social transformation helps further the work of reconciliation in post-apartheid South Africa.

Moreover, The Anglican Church of Canada's gift will ensure the continuing quality of theological programs at Huron and the preparation of future leaders in ministry. At Huron University College, theology students are encouraged to grow intellectually and personally in a nurturing, supportive community environment, and your contribution will help maintain this special character. Huron is a source of vitality for the Anglican Church and beyond, and this support means a great deal in continuing this tradition.

Contributions such that of The Anglican Church of Canada enable us to provide an outstanding educational experience for Huron theology students, Ms. Thomas, and the College is most grateful for this support.

...over please

Many thanks again, and our best wishes.
