Emerging Priorities 2008

Global Relations responds each year to partners' requests for financial assistance with new mission priorities and/or one-time events. Funds to meet these requests come primarily from Global Relations annual budget, but also from several historic Trust Funds and ongoing donations. In 2008, Global Relations will send $248,460 to partners in support of emerging priorities, including international theological student scholarships.

The following projects and events have been assisted thus far in 2008:
